AS FITS the merry holiday time the week just opening is to be crowded with social events. Chief among the interesting affairs are the doings connected with the departure of the old year and the coming of the new. At the Kearns home on New Year's day Mr. and Mrs. Kearns will entertain a large company of friends at a Tango tea for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grace, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Salisbury and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Salisbury have issued cards for a reception at the Salisbury home on East First South street. Miss Dorothy Harker and her cousin, Miss Genevieve Hoffman, will entertain their young friends at a tea at the Harker quarters at Fort Douglas, and there will be numerous smaller and less formal at homes all that afternoon.

Many watch parties are planned for Wednesday evening, a number of friends planning to go to Ogden to help the Weber club celebrate the entrance to its new home. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Greene will entertain a party of friends in the grill room of the Hotel Utah, which will be opened for the watch parties. Mrs. J. C. Lynch will

Better Than Spanking.

Spanking does not cure children of bed wetting. There is a constitutional cure for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child; the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night. (Advertisement) entertain the members of the Crystal Bridge club on Wednesday at the usual luncheon and cards. Mrs. P. S. Richards will also entertain that day at a luncheon at her home on A street.

Mrs. William Story will be the hostess on Tuesday at a luncheon at the Alta club, and Miss Afton Young will entertain also at a luncheon at the Young home in Red Butte Hollow. Miss Dorothy White will give a luncheon tomorrow in honor of Miss Helen Kearns and her guest, Miss Geraldine Grace of Santa Rosa. Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Keyser will entertain a large party of friends tomorrow evening at a dinner and Orpheum party for Mr. and Mrs. Walker Cheesman.

Two large dancing affairs are arranged for tomorrow evening, the reception and ball at the Alta club, which is to be a very elaborate affair, and the Knights of Columbus annual ball at the Hotel Utah.

DESPITE the cold weather which has added zest to the holiday season, the country homes around the city have had their share of merriment for the past few days, and several of them will remain open with gay house parties till the young people return to their schools and colleges once more.

The George D. Keyser family have had a merry party of friends at Waldheim for the past few days, and every minute has been filled with the gay doings compatible with deep snow outdoors and cheery grate fires and coziness within. Mayor and Mrs. Samuel C. Park have had a party of young people out at Shadybrook for the week-end, and every kind of winter sport possible in this region has been tried out by the house guests. The entire Fabian family have been spending the past few days at Entwood, and here, also, the deep snow and a nearby skating pond have furnished much pleasure for the members of this house party. The H. W. Walker family and some of the boy and girl friends of the young people in it have spent the time at Briarcliffe, which is near enough to the mountains to furnish fine coasting in addition to the other sports.

THE army people at the once gay and festive Fort Douglas have dwindled down in the past few weeks to a mere handful, and the place looks like a deserted village. The heavy snowfall has covered everything in sight, and with but a few children and no soldiers to speak of, the scenes of wonted activity are absolutely unbroken fields of purest white. In the past week the last of the army ladies to leave have taken their departure, Mrs. Perkins and her son, Fred, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. Wilson B. Burt, the last named to be met in Pasadena by Captain Burt to spend Christmas. This leaves at the post, of the many hospitable army people stationed there in the past, only Major and Mrs. Willis Uline and their two younger girls, Dr. and Mrs. John H. Hess and their son and daughter, Mrs. Harker and her children, and her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Hoffman and daughter, Mrs. John T. Axton and her family, Mrs. Joseph Rogers and her sister, Mrs. Bowen, Mrs. Reuben Taylor and her new baby, and Mrs. Arthur Ahrends. In the winter season now on, no one line of social activity can fill the delightful place filled by the army people with their series of winter hops, their many delightfully informal as well as their more stately and formal affairs, at which their town friends have been guests in past seasons.

ANOTHER new dancing club has just been organized, and the young people who compose it will give four dancing parties through the coming winter, the first to be given tomorrow evening in Whitney hall. The plan is to give one the last Monday in each month, and the remainder of the series will probably be in the Ladies' Literary clubhouse. The members of the club are: Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Billings, Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Poulton, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Stayner, Dr. and Mrs. A. R. Irvine, Dr. and Mrs. William Ward, Dr. and Mrs. Hyrum Bergstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Nibley, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Quist, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Byer, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford R. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Claude T. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Horace B. Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. Radcliff Q. Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Pharis, Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Y. Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis T. Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. James Wade, Mr. and Mrs. Walter

Cliff, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Burton, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Neslen, Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus Snow, Lisle Smith, Dr. D. Andrews.

D. C. JACKLING left last evening in his private car with a party of friends for southern California having changed his plans for sailing from San Francisco for a cruise on his new yacht to sail later from San Diego. Instead of going to Honolulu for the holiday season the cruise will include a visit to Panama, and possibly to the Bermudas. The Salt Lakers who left here last night were Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Whitley, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. McCornick, David E. Burley and H. B. Tooker. Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Judge and Miss Wymond will go down from San Rafael to join the party in southern California.

THE George D. Keyser country home, Waldheim, was the scene last evening of a delightful affair, an informal dancing party at which about forty of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Keyser were guests. The whole house was hung with holly and mistletoe, and Christmas garlands were to be seen on every side. The whole lower floor was cleared for dancing and excellent music furnished for a merry evening. The guests motored out in the early evening and returned after the dance, except the members of a house party who are spending the week-end at the fascinating place. Mr. and Mrs. Keyser also entertained on Friday evening at a dinner for their house guests and a few others including, besides their guests, Miss Hay and Miss Ethel Durlinger, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Whitehill, Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Boring, Miss Carrie Sappington, Miss Hazel Sappington, Leonard Wilson, Mr. Turner, Mr. Sturgis and Mr. Fox.

THE home of Dr. and Mrs. John T. White was the scene of a brilliant affair last night when their daughter, Dorothy, entertained a large number of people at a delightful dancing party. The dining room was artistically decorated in holiday colors where later in the evening a delicious supper was served. The young hostess was assisted in receiving by Miss Helen Kearns and by Miss Geraldine Grace of Santa Rosa, Cal. The Misses Bessie Faddis, Margaret Collins, Edna Shepherd, Helen Clawson and Evelyn Crawford assisted during the evening. The invited guests were: Misses Helen Kearns, Geraldine Grace, Genevieve Gavin, Alice Hughes, Marjorie Nebeker, Thelma Farnsworth, Phoebe Day, Naomi Hoffman, Olive Hall, Clara Simon, Helen McViehe, Dorothy Perkins, Irene Savage, Marjorie Holden, Doris McLeod, Margaret O'Brien, Rebecca Clawson, Mary Jennings, Gail Riddle, Katherine Perkins, Eva Kass, Florence Grosbell, Beth McCune, Helen Spencer, Kathleen Homer, Helen Sheets, Vivian Smith, Jasmine Smith, Bessie Taft, Eleanor Park, Edna Donnelly, Helen Knowlton, Ruth Prater, Margaret Vaden, Mary Hughes, Cordelia Stroup, June Farnsworth, Mrs. Curtis Moran, Thomas Kearns, Edmund Kearns, David Keith, Ed Sheets, Ned Alder, Boyd Park, Jack Badger, Andy Coffey, Sam Vaden, Ralph McSherry, John Lynch, Courtney Lynch, Walter Gillespie, Bob Collier, Les Pyke, Russell Tracy, Claud Smith, Louis Simon, Wither Walker, Harold Greene, Frank Thomas, John Woolley, Bill Gibson, Clem Schramm, Marsh Boothby, Ray Taylor, Frank Steiner, Bill Wallace, Charles Le Maire, Kingdley Clawson, Knowlton Nebeker, Kent Thomson, Harry Wallace, Frank Shepherd, Jack Bell, Frank Fargo, Walter Berne, Joe Porter, Lawrence Taylor,

Wesley Derr, Leonard Manes, John Wallace, Curtis Moran.

ONE of the merriest of the young Good Fellow helpers of the year 1912 has been suddenly taken away just at the time when she would have enjoyed so much for the second time the work of caring for needy little ones. Gladys Shields, the daughter of Mrs. L. D. Farnsworth, was one of the untiring workers in the Good Fellow cause. Day and night for days before Christmas she was out with her big touring car carrying loads of toys and other things, and gathering in longer and longer lists of names. With a heart big enough to take in all the little ones she found, she worked harder than any other individual except Good Fellow himself to make the movement a success. The news of her sad death from pneumonia just when happiness had come to her, was a great shock to a host of local friends who knew and loved the cheery young woman whose life was one of real usefulness.

MISS MARGARET ANDREWS entertained last evening at a delightful tea at the Andrews home on Q street to which about two hundred of her friends including the young men as well as the girls were invited. The home was all in gayest Christmas decorations, wreaths of holly, red bells and mistletoe adorning all the rooms. The young hostess was assisted in receiving by her mother and in the dining room Mrs. E. B. Andrews, Mrs. F. D. Bickford, Mrs. George Schramm, Mrs. William Druehl, Mrs. A. G. Sullivan and Mrs. James Ivers, Jr., took turns at the tea table while assisting them were Miss Lucile Tavey of Ogden, Miss Marion Westoby, Miss Edna Shepard, Miss Florence Sullivan and Mrs. Alberta Bradley. The girls who were assisting and a number of the young men remained later for an informal ragging party.

TOMORROW evening will be the scene of the elaborate reception and ball to be given by the Alta club. The entertainment committee has been very busy the past week and reports everything is in readiness for the event. The following committees are announced:

Reception—Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Salisbury, Gov. and Mrs. Wm. Spry, Mr. and Mrs. Heber M. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Bolton, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Clark.

Entertainment—C. A. Quigley, chairman; Geo. O. Bradley, R. W. Salisbury, R. J. Glendenning, Dr. J. C. Lundenberg, Rodney T. Badger, T. W. Boyer, H. M. Dinwoody, Dr. J. F. Critchlow, P. L. Williams, W. S. McCornick, Lawrence Greene, J. H. Patterson, G. L. Becker, Dr. C. E. Carter, Col. E. M. Allison, R. C. Gemmell, S. A. Whitney, R. B. Harkness, F. C. Schramm, T. G. Griffin.

A LEADING event of the past week was a reception and dance given by Colonel and Mrs. Edwin F. Holmes at Amelia palace. Christmas greens and the gay poinsettia, suggestion of the holiday season, adorned the halls and gorgeous American Beauties decorated the reception room. Yellow chrysanthemums added a soft glow in the music room. Three hundred guests were entertained. Supper was served late in the evening and the guests were refreshed with punch during the dancing hours. A musical programme under the direction of Fred C. Graham, assisted by some of the best-known musicians in the city, was enjoyed.

Weddings and Engagements
